

How do I activate my order?

Upon the receipt of a small deposit (which is fully refundable) we activate your order. Paying a deposit holds the current price for you, irrespective of whatever price increases may have occurred between placing the deposit and paying the balance. We operate a queuing system and when your order arrives at the top of the queue we start to build your bike.